"You Shall Know The Truth and The Truth Shall Make You Free"

The Connecting Link of Your Community

YOUR RIGHT TO KNOW...

An Unhampered Press

THOSE who publish and produce your newspaper are fully conscious of the burden of responsibility that they bear in searching out, interpreting, and delivering to you, news of the world, your nation, your state and your community. News is knowledge and knowledge makes men free! No price is too great for them to pay to maintain the Freedom of the Press, without which the delivery of news quickly, honestly and fearlessly would be impossible. The cost to you is trifling, but profoundly important. Paying pennies for a paper is but one way for you to support the shining light of freedom: the other, is to realize that without NEWS told TRUTHFULLY, you too would live in darkness. To know the true value of your newspaper, you must realize its meaning to the democratic way of life. Those engaged in the newspaper profession have dedicated their lives to the idea that all citizens shall know the TRUTH, and that their newspapers shall always print the TRUTH.

The News Is the Most Economical and Effective Advertising Medium

Whether it be for the farmer who has a few head of stock for sale, or some farm implement of which he wishes to dispose; the city property owner who has something to sell or rent; the professional man who wishes to keep his name before the public; or the merchants of Randall county who wish to reach ALL the people every week with merchandising messages, The Canyon News offers the best medium.

The News goes into the homes of Randall county upon invitation of the home owners who do the buying; and it is read by every member of the family, because The News prints the weekly news of the county in which each and every member of the family is interested.

It is the policy of The News to give the maximum of co-operation, circulation and reader interest to its advertisers at as low a rate as possible. This has resulted in a wide volume of business and in universal satisfaction to those who advertise in The Canyon News regularly.

The Canyon News provides the best and most economical medium available in Randall county.

The News Has Modern Equipment Far In Excess of Today's Needs

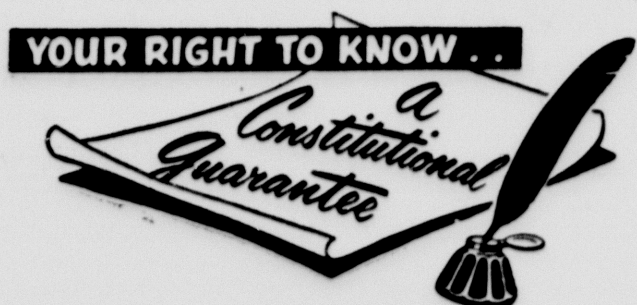

The News is noted for the splendid building that is owned, and the superior equipment which is possessed by the newspaper and printing departments. All of the equipment is modern, and is kept in first class repair, ready for service to the patrons. New machinery and printing type are added annually to keep the plant at the highest point of efficiency.

The plant is composed of two Linotypes; an Optimus cylinder press—the finest of its type that is made; two job printing presses, one a Kelly "B" automatic; a book folder; a newspaper folder; power cutter; power stitcher; punch; perforator; eight cabinets of type with scores of new type faces; and all other kinds of equipment that is needed.

The plant is sufficiently large to produce a daily newspaper when the time arrives to warrant the publication of a daily.

No printing job is too small to merit the attention of this plant; few jobs are too large to be successfully handled here.

Much of the profit of this business is re-invested in this plant in order that we may be of greater service to the people of the community.

The News Is a Definite Asset and Resource In Canyon

Representing a heavy investment to the owners, and with book value assets running into thousands of dollars, The Canyon News and the Warwick Printing Company are one of Canyon's largest assets.

This firm is a heavy taxpayer, spends thousands of dollars for materials, postage, insurance, lights, power, gas, freight, etc., each year.

A staff of experienced newspaper people are employed in addition to a large number of correspondents who are paid regular compensation. More than 40 people are directly interested each week in the production of this newspaper. Every person interested in The Canyon News, spends his money among the business firms of Canyon. Every person connected with The News believes in Canyon and the future of the city.

For 56 years this institution has been working for the upbuilding of Randall county; this newspaper has always been a real asset and resource to the business interests of the community.

Official Memorandum

BY

ALLAN SHIVERS
Governor of Texas

AUSTIN, TEXAS

GREETINGS

In the light of international events, our cherished right of freedom of the press takes on added importance. For as we consider the pattern of aggression by forces seeking to dominate the world, we find that the gagging of the press is invariably a prelude to the destruction of free government.

We have reason to take pride in the alert and vigorous press that has been built up in our nation under our traditional freedom of thought and expression. We cannot, however, assume that it will always be that way. In our own hemisphere we have witnessed the death of La Prensa, one of the world's great newspapers. Elsewhere, we have seen the perils that beset the men and women of our free press in their pursuit of the truth. We have the example of William N. Cullis, now incarcerated behind the Iron Curtain in a mockery of justice by oppressors who know that the printing of the truth interferes with their aim to destroy individual rights and freedom.

In view of these and other disturbing events in the world today, it is appropriate that the slogan "Your Newspaper Lights the Way of Freedom" has been selected for the 13th annual observance of National Newspaper Week.

THEREFORE, I, as Governor of the State of Texas, in cooperation with this program of the free press of our nation, do hereby designate the period October 1 - 8, 1952, as

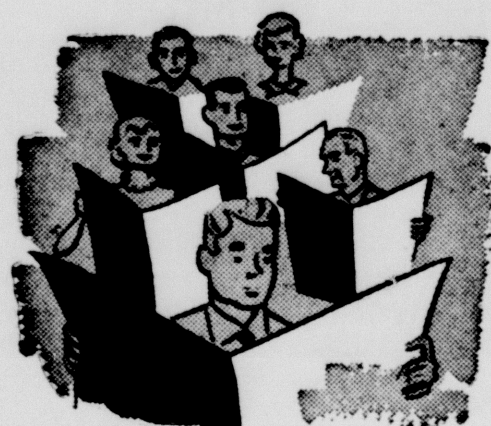

NATIONAL NEWSPAPER WEEK

In Texas, and urge all the people of our state to take the opportunity during this period to become more familiar with the services and facilities offered by their community newspapers and their contribution to the preservation of our way of life.

In official recognition whereof, I hereby certify that

THINK

Supposing There Wasn't A Newspaper in Canyon

TO THE SCHOOLS----

Who would publish the volumes of school items which are important to us, but would be drab and uninteresting to others outside the community. Who would advance and discuss school problems only of interest to the people of the Canyon community?

TO THE CHURCHES----

Who would publish the weekly church notices and numberless church articles only of local interest?

TO THE TAXPAYERS----

Where else can you keep in touch with expenditures of your money, being made in the county, town and school districts? Of course, the law provides for posting notices giving certain of these facts in towns where no newspaper is published; but how many of you would find time to go to a bulletin board to read them?

TO THE ADVERTISERS----

Who would advertise the products you have to sell and the services you have to promote? Others have tried to get away without advertising and eventually found the sheriff waiting at the door. Yes, you could use other methods of advertising; but you will find none so effective, because there's no other advertising medium which your potential customers receive because they want it and pay for it.

TO CLUBS AND SOCIETIES----

Who would publish accounts of these meetings which are so necessary to main interest and good will?

TO THE READERS----

It is to you the paper means most of all. Where else could you get the full picture of our community life—our joys, our sorrows, our activities, our progress, our pleasures, our social and religious life?

THERE IS NOTHING TO TAKE THE PLACE OF YOUR HOME TOWN NEWSPAPER!

A FREE PEOPLE --- A FREE PRESS

THE AMERICAN PEOPLE ARE NOT DUMB

We Americans have never in the dictionary sense, been dumb. We are extremely vocal. When we don't like something, we say so. We tell our neighbor, we wire our Congressman and, probably most significant, we write a letter to our newspaper—a good many million of us every year.

We are not dumb. We have never lost the use of our vocal chords. We know we're in the driver's seat, we know we run the country. We're awfully cranky and when something displeases us, we're quick to tell the world. That's why we get things done.

In the good old U.S.A. slang sense, we Americans aren't dumb either. We know that the right to express ourselves didn't just happen. It was fought for. It was paid for in tears and in blood and we have guarded it jealously through the years.

We are not dumb. We know that our precious freedoms and liberties, the right to think, vote, travel, earn and worship as we please, are safe only so long as we please, through our newspapers. We know that of all our freedoms, the freedom of the press is the most important. We know that it guards every other liberty and that without it we would live in darkness, a prey to any demagogue's whim.

We Americans are not dumb. As long as we value our rights and our liberties we shall steadfastly resist any attempt by private interests or public authority to encroach upon our free newspapers. For the right to read is the right to know—to be informed. Because all our other rights depend on it, it is the one right most worth defending.

Homecoming to Be Feature of West Texas State College on Saturday

Regents Dedicated Campus Buildings

A full day of "Regents' Day" events was slated at West Texas State College today as the Board of Regents of Texas State Teachers Colleges are visiting the campus for a dedication program for the college's two newest buildings.

Representative Walter Rogers of Pampa also participated on the program along with the regents, in formal ceremonies which began in the Administration Building Auditorium at 10 a. m., following a business session of the board at 9.

Work on Sewer Disposal Plant Shows Progress

Mayor Andy Walsh said last week that work was progressing as well as could be expected on the city's new sewer disposal plant. The workers have had only one unexpected obstacle to contend with up to this time. That was when they struck water at 16 feet when digging the main tank that is to be 27 feet deep. They are having to keep the water pumped out as they work now.

About one and one-half mile of the main sewer line has already been laid. As you drive down to the location of the new disposal plant the first thing you notice is a group of huge piles of dirt. The entire plant will consist of four various tanks and a lagoon when completed.

When you get to the place where the men are working the location of the four tanks stand out clearly. The first one, or the main tank, is the one the sewage flows into. At the bottom of this tank will be two huge pumps for pumping the water into the trickling tank.

From this tank the water will be channeled into the final settling tank and from there to the sludge tank. Water draining off the sludge tank will be emptied into a lagoon.

The present sewer disposal plant has been in operation since 1906 or 1907, accurate figures on this date were not readily available, but it is outdated and overloaded at present. In building the new sewer disposal plant the city bought 3½ acres of land on which to place it. Mayor Walsh said that upon completion of the plant these 3½ acres would be fenced in with storm fence. Present plans also include leveling off of the land and proper care to make the spot attractive.

Postal Receipts Show Rise Over Period Last Year

Postmaster Guy Harp announced the postal receipts for the quarter ending September 30 last week as $10,906.67. "Each year the postal receipts climb a little more," the postmaster said. The September quarter last year showed a total of $9,576.91.

Mr. Harp went on to point out that the biggest item the post office has to obtain revenue is postage stamps. When you think of the large amount of these postage stamps needed to total $10,000 you can get an idea of the vast business the post office is doing. Even over a three-month period it takes a lot of postage stamps to total $10,906.67.

Mrs. John Williams Placed Second With Needlework, Dallas

She will talk to two groups of students at 10 a. m. and 11 a. m., and to business teachers and student teachers at 1:30 p. m. Business teachers of the area are invited to hear Mrs. Strony.

Chapel Dedicated to Dr. J. A. Hill

The man at the helm for 30 of the 42 years of West Texas State College history received high tribute Wednesday morning as state teachers colleges regents named one of the college's newest buildings for him.

Dr. J. A. Hill, West Texas State president emeritus, who has seen this Panhandle institution grow from infancy, heard Walter F. Woodul, regent from Houston, officially designate the "Joseph A. Hill Memorial Chapel." The naming of the little campus religious center, built in 1950, came as a part of a "Regents' Day" program, when two new buildings were dedicated and the college's new department of military science and tactics was recognized. An open house in the three buildings began at 2 p. m.

One of the original faculty members of West Texas State when it was founded in 1910, Dr. Hill was head of the history department until 1918 when he succeeded R. B. Cousins as president. Under his 30-year administration, West Texas State developed into one of the major colleges of Texas, expanding from the small 40-acre campus which contained the present Administration Building and a home for the president, to a physical plant valued at about $2,500,000 when he retired in 1948.

At the close of his administration in 1948, when he was succeeded by Dr. James P. Cornette, the college was launching its major building and expansion program. Between 1942 and 1952, it is estimated that two-thirds of the campus buildings were constructed.

Dr. Hill, still active in community affairs, conceived the idea of a religious center on the West Texas State campus. With the support of many Panhandle groups, a campaign for funds was launched in 1944. Construction was begun in February 1950, and the chapel was dedicated as "the West Texas State Memorial Chapel" at Homecoming that fall.

Canyon Weather Report Will Be Given On KGNC

During the past month the Chamber of Commerce has been working to secure ways and means of having the weather report of Canyon given by the weather bureau in Amarillo. Clark Jarnagin, president of the Chamber of Commerce, has been diligently working to promote this event. One of the main reasons for promoting this broadcast of the weather report was for the benefit of people living in Amarillo and surrounding areas and have property in the vicinity of Canyon.

Starting this week the precipitation as well as high and low temperature will be given. This information will be broadcast daily directly from the Amarillo Air Terminal over radio station KGNC.

It was also announced that a report of this type should prove beneficial to students commuting from Amarillo to West Texas State College.

New Policy To Begin Soon for Canyon Theatres

A new policy for Canyon theatres is to start Saturday, October 11th. The Varsity will re-open for three days each week starting Saturday-Sunday and Monday, Oct. 11-12-13 and will remain open each week-end with the exception of holidays for the remainder of the school session. The opening picture will be "Affairs in Trinidad," starring Rita Hayworth and Glenn Ford.

The Canyon Drive-In will be open every night for this week and starting Sunday, Oct. 12, will drop to four days a week; the changes being Sunday-Monday and Friday and Saturday. The Drive-In will be closed on Oct. 14-15-16 and each Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of each week as long as business and weather permits. Next spring and summer it is expected to be open every night.

The policy for the Olympic will remain the same; being open every night and continuous showing on Saturday and Sunday starting at 1:30 p. m. According to Charlie Donnell, manager for the local theatres, he has a list of good pictures scheduled for October and November.

This year the Canyon Chamber of Commerce will assist West Texas State College in sponsoring the Homecoming parade. The Chamber has set up a parade committee of which E. M. (Mutt) Myers is chairman. Different groups of individuals have been appointed to contact and invite all local organizations and business houses to build and enter a float in this parade.

Up to now there has been 12 business houses that have stated they will have an entry in the parade. Approximately eight floats have been promised from the college. Four non-commercial floats, other than the college, have been promised to help make this parade a huge success. Out of town bands, chorus groups, neighboring town's mayors, Congressman Walter Rogers, and various other prominent figures over the Panhandle have been invited.

The floats are to be divided into three categories this year. They are non-commercial, commercial, and special events. The Chamber of Commerce is offering prize money for the float picked by the judges to be first place winners in each category. First non-commercial float will get a $75 purse. The commercial float selected a first by the judges will receive a $50 prize and the special event selected as first by the judges will draw a $25 prize. Judges will also select floats and entries for second and third place but only the one selected as first will receive prize money.

Those who are going to have an entry in the parade from college organizations should contact Curtis Babcock. Entries and floats of the non-commercial class, other than those entered through the college, should be reported to Randall County Home Demonstration Agent Miss Lou Ella Patterson, or County Agent John Brazzil. Those desiring to enter commercial floats should contact Jack Jennings or Clarence Eugene Thompson.

Glenn Waggoner, secretary-manager of the Chamber of Commerce, said it was very important to notify these various people about any float or entry desired to get into the parade. He described the step as being important so that people who have floats entered will learn the procedure of the parade. Those who notify the above named people of an entry will be notified as to their position in forming the parade. They will receive this notification on Friday, October 10.

Mutt Myers, chairman of the parade committee, says this year's parade should be one of the most successful and colorful that has ever been staged in Canyon. Shortly after the parade the usual barbecue will be enjoyed on the tennis courts of West Texas State College campus. The barbecue will be at noon and at 2:30 that afternoon the football game between the West Texas Buffaloes and New Mexico Aggies will begin.

Many highlighting activities will take place after the football game. A large number of WT exes will be in town. There will be class reunions and dances to entertain these visitors. College students will also be celebrating the event with parties and dances.

A colorful array of over 30 floats and an even dozen bands from the Building Permits Drop in September

As the mercury drops with the coming of cold weather so do the building permits. City Hall records show that only three permits were issued during the month of September. The total of these permits was $12,200.

Only two of the permits were for residences and the remaining one was for a garage. Since the month of July the construction business has been steadily dropping. The month of August showed a drop of more than $17,000. The month of September dropped $19,000 below the total of August.

The coming of winter is the greatest cause contributing to the drop in construction work. Although the drop is terrific the situation is not alarming. Building and construction work will continue to sag during the winter months. But if they follow their true pattern they will rise again next spring and summer.

Stork Specials

Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Mayben are the parents of a son, Thomas Randall, born on August 31, in Denver, Colorado. Mrs. Mayben will be remembered as Gladys Thomas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Thomas.

Mrs. Raymond Stucker of Dalhart has been visiting her niece and family, Mr. and Mrs. Meredith Warren, Penny Lynn, and Randy.

Panhandle area assures a spectacular parade for this year's Homecoming. Participants will begin forming at 9:45 a. m. Saturday, with the parade due to begin at 10:30. Route of march is west on Third Avenue from Highway 87 to 15th street, around the Court House square and back down Fourth Avenue. The parade disbands at Buffalo Stadium after going down 27th from Fourth.

Leading off will be the WT Buffalo Band, directed by M. J. Newman. Mass band director this year will be A. Clyde Roller, conductor of the Amarillo Symphony. Other bands participating are the Canyon High School, Borger High School, McLean High School, Panhandle High School, Spearman High School, Tulsa High School, Texoma, Okla., High School, and Phillips Junior High School bands. All are directed by WT exes, by coincidence.

Floats entered from Canyon are the Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts, Rainbow Girls, Lions Club, Olympic Theater, Warren's, Taylor & Sons, Joyner Motors, Burrow Lumber Company, Stevenson Pontiac Company, Warwick's, West Texas Motor Company, Canyon Implement, Canyon Steam Laundry, Cunningham Appliance, Gulf Oil Company, H. R.'s Greenhouse, and Buffalo Motel.

College groups and floats are the ROTC, T-Club, Student Senate, President's party, Mayors of Panhandle cities, Epsilon Beta fraternity, Connor Hall, Alpha Sigma Xi fraternity, Cousins Hall, Gamma Phi sorority, Future Homemakers of Texas, Physical Education Majors, Buffalo Bills and Buffalo Gals, Tau Tau Tau fraternity, Pi Omega sorority, Kappa Tau Phi sorority, Aggie Club, Randall Hall, Delta Zeta Chi sorority, and T-Ancor Rodeo Club.

Farm Bureau Active in Farm Problems

What does your organization do for the members, a farmer asked G. A. Dietz, president of the Randall County Farm Bureau. When somebody hits Dietz with that question he always takes some specific commodity that the farmer grows, and points out what Farm Bureau has done for the commodity. In this case, the individual was a livestock producer, and Dietz told him about the Farm Bureau's activities in 1951 when OPS scheduled the price rollbacks on beef.

"The two rollbacks that had been set up for beef were knocked out by the Farm Bureau," Dietz told him, "when Allan Kline, president of the American Farm Bureau Federation, called every State Farm president in the nation to Washington to protest the rollbacks." The Farm Bureau was able to accomplish this because those state presidents represented a million and a half farm families in this country.

According to the 1950 census, Dietz continued, Randall county each year markets about 13,172 cows and calves. Average weight of the animals is approximately 600 pounds. Dietz estimates that the rollbacks saved farmers five cents a pound, or $30 per animal. This means $395,160 that Farm Bureau saved Randall county livestock producers last year, the Farm Bureau concluded.

Communism vs. Democracy Must Be Settled in Next Five Years

A speaker last week sounded the warning that the two forces operating in the world today, Communism vs. Democracy, must come to grips within five years. One force or the other will prevail during that time. As of the present, the two forces are 50-50 in power. The mistakes within our State Department has allowed this to happen.

The speaker went on to explain that war and hunger were the impelling problems of the world. War has never settled a thing. Yet the Communies are using forceful arguments for peace. Rather than talk peace, the Democratic nations are building for war. Instead of providing food for the starving, the Communies are making vague promises of food.

These promises, pure lies on the part of the Communists, are having a great influence on the nations which have been torn by wars. This is true of the youth of these nations. Youth will be easily persuaded to act in favor of Communism when the promise of peace and food are held out to them.

The speaker refused to talk politics, but took a left handed jab at both candidates for president, as being unqualified to lead this great nation against the forces of Communism. He quoted from the records. The war in Korea was necessary to stop the march of the Communies; we have won this war, but will mess around and lose the peace, unless we are careful.

This speaker is in the aviation business. The world has been drawn into a mighty small affair when it takes just 36 hours to reach any part of it. There are 30,000 students from America studying in Europe this year; and 22,000 students from abroad studying here. There were a half million Americans in Europe during the past summer. There are now 75,000 non-military Americans abroad today. These are the real ambassadors abroad.

The speaker predicted that Communism will be destroyed only if the people of America have sense enough and foresight enough to lead the world out of its present unfortunate condition.

How Will Texas Vote in the Presidential Election Nov. 4?

We note that the national magazines still insist that Texas is among the doubtful states, and may go Republican rather than stay in the Solid South.

If this is true, we shall be greatly surprised. However, there is a decided move away from the Truman forces which want to stay in power under the Stevenson administration. Truman proved to be a mighty power with the people in 1948, but he seems to have lost his power in this campaign. He is drawing large crowds on his whistle stop campaign, but the forcefulness of his campaign has faded away to a great extent. Truman does not have the personality of a Roosevelt.

Of course Truman will continue to lambast the Republicans, and General Eisenhower. He will disclaim that Stevenson is not Harry's boy, but the people are not believing all of this dope.

We have heard that Eisenhower will sweep most of the Panhandle; and the large cities of Texas; but when it comes to the cotton farmers, look out! These are the boys who follow in the political tracks of their fathers and grandfathers, who have always voted the ticket straight.

Money Seems To Be Scarce in The Political Camp of Steve

Governor Stevenson is reported to be running short on cash with which to run his campaign. The so-called Democratic party, taken over by the New Dealers, the Fair Dealers and the Raw Dealers, are not kicking into the campaign fund. These share-the-wealth boys are the fellows who believe in a one-way distribution of wealth — "from your pocket to their pockets."

To make up for the cash shortage, the followers of Stevenson are taking up the cry against Republican leaders, charging that millions of dollars will be spent on a blitz in 12 states in order to elect General Eisenhower. Republican leaders deny this.

Naturally, who is going to kick in their cash to keep a group of men into office who have given as their public opinion that it is okay to get into the pockets of the taxpayers and take away their cash so that less worthy persons may give their share?

We shall see.

Hear the Marine Band on Oct. 29 Advises Jerry Newman

Those citizens of Randall county who enjoy excellent band music will not pass up the opportunity of hearing the Marine Band at West Texas State on October 29.

Those who have heard the band in person or over the air are enthusiastic over the coming of this wonderful musical organization.

Jerry Newman, head of the Music Department of West Texas State, advises Canyon citizens to get busy and buy their tickets now for fear that the supply will be exhausted before local citizens are supplied.

There will be a crowd here for the programs, never question that.

Up Goes Prices as Miners Get Boost in Prices of Coal

John L. Lewis has been given another boost in wages for his miners. The owners objected, but there was little they could do about it. As a result of this boost in wages, those who use coal will pay the bill through increased prices of coal.

At the same time, the mine owners will give a boost in price into the Lewis kitty which is in complete charge of Lewis. This kitty goes to paying fancy salaries to executives of the miners union; and to electing presidents who do the bidding of Lewis.

Just now Governor Stevenson is the favored candidate, who will get a healthy boost from the Lewis financial kitty.

Health hint: If you believe your doctor, do what he advises; if you don't believe him, do what he advises.

Who can remember when modest women shrank from wide skirts, because men might see their legs?

"What Will I Get Out of the Candidate Who Is Elected?"

We heard Senator Nixon in Amarillo the other evening when he stopped on his whirlwind trip across the nation. He was making eight speeches that day, traveling by plane. That is enough to kill any candidate, but the Senator seems to be enjoying his trip.

What we started out to say was the opinion expressed by a laboring man who stood near the press table. After the Senator finished, this old boy asked of the Newsmen and other reporters:

"If elected what will be done FOR the laboring people?"

We caught the implication that the candidates have been promising a lot to all groups as they campaigned around the nation. This fellow wanted a blank check made out in his favor before the election as to just what he might expect if the Republicans should be elected.

How will the election benefit me?

Will I get in on the clean up?

Will the candidates forget all about me after election?

These are some of the questions that appear to be more important to the people than who is elected president on November 4.

We could not keep from wondering what all of this security will mean if the commies move in and take over this fair land of ours? Of course no such foolishness will ever take place in this land of the free and home of the brave, so we think!

Gypping the Wealthy for the Benefit of the Poor of Nation

There are few very wealthy individuals left in America today. In comparison to a few years ago, the government has taken away the wealth of hundreds and thousands of persons who were considered "rich" a few years ago.

Now we have big corporations, which the administration is seeking to fleece out of their surplus. Just read some of the fantastic statements of President Truman if you do not believe this. While the President rants and raves against the big, wealthy, power corporations who are destroying America, his boy friend, Adlai, is keeping perfectly mum. (Silence gives consent).

This should lead all of us to wonder.

Who owns the big corporations? The officers and directors? No.

These corporations are owned by thousands of individuals, who are staying off the pension rolls of the government through the small checks which they receive in dividends. We say "small" advisedly.

As a matter of record, let us say that we do not own stock in a single one of these corporations, and we do not intend to own any of this stock so long as the administration in Washington is seeking to gyp the stockholders out of their only source of income.

No Polls on the Presidential Election in The Canyon News

The Canyon News has been requested a number of times to conduct a poll on the presidential election. Frankly, we do not believe in these polls, and have always resisted any effort to put one on.

Upon a number of occasions, we have asked opinions of persons on public questions, publishing the replies as we received them. But these are not polls. They are merely passing opinions.

We have found that too often large numbers of ballots are cast by interested persons in order to make the polls one sided. Such polls may put some folks to work for their favorite candidate, but in case their candidate is running too much behind, it may discourage them from even making any attempt to influence their friends.

So far as we are concerned, we believe that each and every voter in Randall county has brains enough to properly evaluate the two leading candidates for president. They will be able to express their opinions at the polls without interference on our part or on the part of any citizen of Randall county.

This does not mean that we shall refrain from expressing opinions as the campaign advances. We reserve the right to speak up as we please and recommend the same of every voter in Randall county. What we are interested in is to see every qualified voter go to the polls and express his opinion.

Newspaper Week Is Being Observed Throughout Nation

This is Newspaper Week.

Every year the first week in October is set aside as the time for newspapers to do a little bragging about themselves.

Because of economic conditions, The Canyon News was unable to carry out a newspaper theme last year. It is renewed this year on a somewhat limited scale.

We hope that you get some inspiration over the fact that your weekly newspaper is classed as one of the leading publications in Texas and has been awarded national honors in the past.

However, honors of the past will never supplant ambitions for a greater newspaper in the future.

Will you help with our ambitions by giving us all of the news at all times? Thanks.

Personally, we have never been able to figure out the philosophy of some people, except on the jungle theory.

The merchant who is not interested in the growth of his business should not advertise in The Canyon News.

An organized religion can make no greater mistake than to assume that religion is its private possession.

The public prefers sex to wholesome writing and that explains the success of many undeserving authors.

The sure way to improve the quality of elected officials is to raise educational standards of the voter.

Some of our chronic sick people would get well if nobody ever listened to their complaints.

Personally, we will be glad when the election is over, and we get down to basic facts.

You might try going to church next Sunday; you can't blame the heat much longer.

STATES' TAXES

State taxes netted the state governments a record $9,838,000,000 last year, according to the Bureau of the Census. It was the nineteenth consecutive year in which state tax collections had increased. The biggest revenue producers were general, sales and receipts taxes, which provided $2,229,000,000 for state treasuries. California collected more state taxes than any other—$1,064,000,000.

Invest Your Printing Money in Canyon

Just Between You, Me and ... the Gatepost

(By Lawrence Hunnicutt)

Last week we forgot a most important event for the column. It was the visit of Mrs. Mamie Conner Bradford of Pasadena, California. She was in town and dropped by The News office for a visit. In case you don't know who she is we'll explain. She was the first white person born in Canyon. She is the daughter of L. G. Conner, founder of Canyon.

While Mrs. Bradford was here Bill Black came over and Mrs. Bradford, Mr. Black, and Mr. Warwick entered into a brief discussion of old times. Listening to their discussion of events back in the early 1900's was most interesting. It was like watching the actual development of the town's founding, beginning and the events leading up to the community in its present state as a thriving town.

There are some new faces in town and if you don't believe it just drive past the Stevenson Motor Company and get a look at those glamorized totem poles. They sure make that vacant spot look classy and at the same time they provide a bit of material to spike the imagination.

For the next few weeks we're going to have a new addition to the column that you may find interesting. This addition is excerpts from the letters of Miss Joyce Hill who is doing missionary work in Cuba. Miss Hill's mother brought some of the letters to The News office and those parts of the letters which appear most interesting to the public will be given from week to week in the column.

Joyce writes that it's so quiet in Santa Rosa, Cuba, that it's almost frightening. This quietness seems more pronounced, she explains, after the noise of traffic in Havana and Matanzas. There is great noise in town, she explains, because the first car to honk upon approaching a corner gets the right-of-way. As a result there is a continuous bedlam of honking. That Cuba must be quite a place.

Another belated addition to our column this week is the visiting student. Our selection of a student for this issue is lovely red haired Earlena Phillips of Hereford. Before moving to Hereford Earlena lived in Canadian. Her red hair and the fact that she lived in Canadian for 13 years is something of a coincidence that fittingly adapts itself to the column.

The first student to appear in the column was Leroy Williams, a red haired boy from Canadian. So it seems only appropriate that this renewal of visiting students near the beginning of the term should be a red haired girl who used to live in Canadian.

Earlena is an English and Secondary Education major at West Texas State College. She transferred to WT after going one semester at Texas Tech in Lubbock. By way of explanation about the transfer, Earlena said that the WT campus was smaller and friendlier and that is why she came here. Earlena is a junior but she may be graduated in January, 1954. She's working on a B.A. and plans to begin work on her M.A. as soon as she gets her first degree. After getting her master's she plans to teach.

Upon coming to WT one of the first clubs Earlena belonged to was the Mary E. Hudspeth. After getting into the upper classes she became an Alpha Chi member. She also belongs to Buffalo Gals.

Now we come to that part of the column that's sort of a jumping off place. According to reports, some stop reading at this point and others dump the paper into the nearest wastebasket. Brace yourself for a frown or a chuckle, whichever you do when you come to chirps of wisdom.

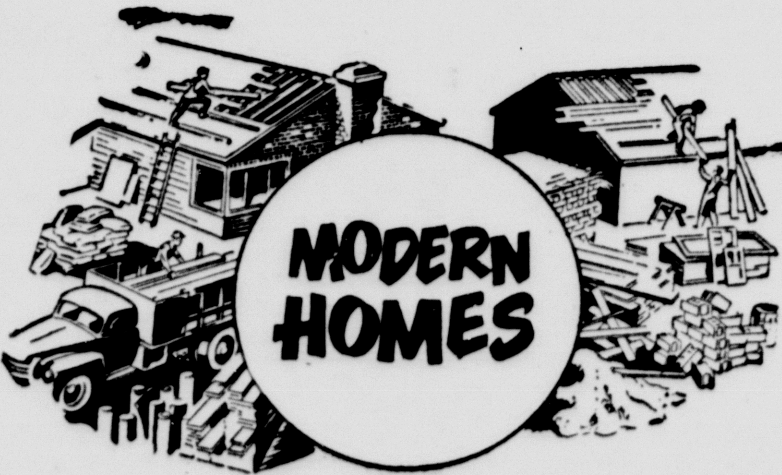

Few of us can stand prosperity. Another person's, that is. Warning: If your wife wants to learn to drive, don't stand in her way. Dollars do better if they are accompanied by sense. A chrysanthemum by any other name would be much easier to spell. If you want a thing well done, don't do it yourself unless you know how.

Office of the West Texas Gas Co. in Canyon will be completed in a few days. A cooking demonstration is planned for the near future in order to acquaint women of Canyon with the advantages of cooking with gas.

New Rodeo Arena To Be Constructed

The WTSC Rodeo Club will join the rest of the school in realizing dreams in the near future, according to club president Dick Ratjen. Club members completed staking out an area just north of Conner Hall Thursday afternoon on which a rodeo arena will be built soon. Location for the new arena has been set for 200 yards north of Conner Hall on the space where the bonfire wood is now stacked. Construction will include bleachers.

This year's club is sponsored by Dr. M. R. Callihan, head of the agriculture department and Dr. Jack Walker.

The project underway is a joint sponsorship between the rodeo and the T-Anchor Aggie Club.

The rodeo club now has 27 members, 15 are girls. Ratjen said this week that club membership was open to any student who wished to join and who is a rodeo fan. It is open to women as well as men.

Officers this year include, other than Ratjen, Dick Doyle from Claude, Don Pinnell from Adrian, and Leta Cherry from Berger.

Construction on the arena which will be 125 yards long and 50 yards wide will begin sometime next week. Work on the project will be done by members of the Rodeo and Aggie clubs.

Couple Attends Insurance Seminar

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Beard returned last week from Dallas where they were guests of the State Farm Insurance Companies.

All of the 497 agents representing the State Farm Insurance Companies throughout Texas, Arkansas and Oklahoma were invited with their wives to attend the special two-day seminars at the Texas office in Dallas.

According to Mr. Beard the purpose of the seminars is to further improve the service and operation of State Farm in the interests of its policy holders. Being a mutual company, he explained that the policy holders are the real bosses of the organization.

The State Farm Mutual Automobile Insurance Company since 1941 has led all auto insurance companies in volume of business. Recently State Farm enrolled its 2,200,000th member and in 1951 its premium exceeded the $100,000,000 mark for the first time in the company's history. Home offices of the State Farm Insurance Companies are located in Bloomington, Illinois.

Beautiful P. E. Building Replaces Old Burton - House Of Memories

The magnificent new field house to be dedicated here at West Texas State College next Wednesday in "Regents' Day" ceremonies will be replacing a "house of memories."

Old Burton Gymnasium, a work-of-the-hands of not-to-be-daunted students, faculty, and Canyon citizens, today compares with the new physical education building like a Stanley Steamer with Buick's Car of the Future. But in 1925 it was one of the outstanding athletic plants of the country.

Ex-students and basketball fans throughout the Panhandle, who crowded into Burton during the last 28 years for college and high school tournaments, will welcome heartily the new $400,000 plant. Visitors at Wednesday's open house will be impressed with its beauty and the fact that it contains just about everything one could desire in a modern gym.

The new building contains classrooms, wrestling and boxing rooms, training rooms, offices, storerooms, shower and locker rooms, and a playing area for basketball, volleyball, and tennis, and is equipped for every conceivable use.

It is a fitting home for "the world's tallest basketball team," for with its seating capacity of about 4,000, it can easily accommodate the crowds who follow Buffalo basketball fortunes. There was no luxury in the building, for West Texas State last year attracted paid admissions to games second only to the University of Texas, among all other Texas institutions.

Forgotten now is old Burton, long outmoded, decrepit from long use, barn-like and ugly. Only a small portion is still in use—as a supply room for West Texas State's new Reserve Officers' Training Corps unit.

It was 28 years ago, on Oct. 14, 1924, that the first spade of ground was dug for the ancient gymnasium. Four months later, the first basketball game was played in Burton, then called College Gym. Its coming into being was a remarkable story of impatience with state legislatures and a spirit of "we'll do it ourselves."

West Texas State, with a seatless gym in the Administration Building, was in the early 1920's gaining a reputation for its basketball prowess, under tutelage of Coach Sam D. Burton. It was admitted to the Texas Intercollegiate Athletic Association in 1923, and, with winning teams, there was not enough standing room for the crowds who gathered to view the games.

A group of faculty and students, led by Coach Burton and R. A. Terrill, head of the Industrial Arts department, after being refused aid by the legislature, undertook to build a gymnasium. Donations were gathered from every available source, and labor for construction came from students, faculty, and Canyon citizens. It was erected in an amazingly short time, constructed of "chips and whetstones," according to President Emeritus, J. A. Hill.

Criticism arose during the time building was going on, because many persons felt there was no need for a building to seat a tremendous crowd of 1,400 people. Their fears were soon allayed, however, for when the first game was played in February, 1925, 1,600 people turned out and bulged the still wet seams.

When the new field house is dedicated next Wednesday, words in the 1925 issue of Le Mirage, West Texas State annual, may be recalled by some of those who watched Burton Gymnasium go up—"Another WTSC dream has been realized. But the dream itself could have accomplished nothing had it not been for the aggressiveness and loyalty of our student body, friends and faculty."

Business Firms Undecided About Closing Saturday

There is no definite understanding between Canyon merchants about closing up for the Homecoming football game Saturday. The general procedure, as related by one business man, is to close at the beginning of the game and remain closed until the game is over. This year the merchants, for the most part, say they will probably close but there has been nothing definite decided upon closing or remaining open.

The Homecoming game this year is between the West Texas State Buffaloes and the New Mexico Aggies.

Kickoff time is scheduled for 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon. Those business firms that close will reopen immediately after the game is over.

1,000th Student Enrolls at Center

Dr. James P. Cornette, president of West Texas State College, and Dr. Roy Boger, director of the Student Center at Amarillo, were on hand to congratulate the 1,000th student to enroll at the Center this fall. This year enrollment is expected to top 1,050 there.

Night classes have been showing an increase every year and since 1946 attendance has been increasing in day classes. Boger says the school has always been operated as a residence center. Most of the instructors there teach at West Texas State in Canyon. Such special courses as business law and certified public accounting are offered at the Center.

Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Taylor accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Taylor, Jr., of Lockney, visited Saturday with his sister, Mrs. G. B. Bourland.

Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Hershey, Laoma and Elmer Dimmitt spent Sunday with their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Dempsey Alexander.

Valeta Haines and Nancy Wright attended the Notre Dame-Texas football game in Austin last week end.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto White left Thursday for Gardena, Cal., where they will spend about three months.

FORTUNES OF FAME
It was the day of the big cricket match. The famous batsman arrived with full escort of fans. One sprightly urchin dashed up to the hero and presented an autograph album and pencil. "Let's 'ave yer name here, will yer?" and he departed with the prize scrawl.

The game went opposite to expectations, the hero was a thorough muff, the favorites lost. As the players finished and the hero filed out of the dressing room, the urchin piped up from the crowd: "Hi there! Got an eraser?"

OUT OF THE HUT
"Remember, darling, you won't always be a junior clerk in a old office."
"That's a fact! I've already got a week's notice."

Robert Lovett, Secretary of Defense, speaking of Russian criticism of U. S.: "Their habit has been to imply to someone else the crimes they themselves propose to commit."

Paul L. Snyder, park commissioner, forbidding the wearing of shorts in the parks: "The only limbs we want to see in our parks are those growing on trees."

Syngman Rhee, President, South Korean Republic: "Peace will come only when Russia is fully convinced it cannot defeat the free nations."

MOTION CARRIED

In a town on the Pacific coast an earthquake shock was felt. When the municipal building rocked dangerously, the aldermen broke up their meeting in a hurry and scrambled.

The clerk, a fuddy-duddy who insisted upon formalities and parliamentary procedure, was hard put to give his minutes the proper official tone. Finally he evolved this masterpiece:

"On motion of the city hall, the council adjourned."

Found A Home

A salesman was dismissed because of a lack of courtesy to customers. A month later the sales manager spotted him walking about in a police uniform.

"I see you've joined the force, Jones," said the sales manager.

"Yes," replied Jones. "This is the job I've been looking for all my life. On this job the customer is always wrong."

Artist's Pride

Steeplejack — "Ullo, Bert! Where's that mate you took on—the chap that used to be an artist?"

Second Ditto — "Aven't you 'eard? Soon as he laid a couple of bricks, he stepped back off the scaffolding to admire 'is work."

DOUBLE DUTY

The chief constable of a small English town was also an expert veterinary surgeon. One night his telephone bell rang.

"Is Mr. Blank there?" said an agitated voice.

Mrs. Blank answered yes, and inquired: "Do you want my husband in his capacity of veterinary surgeon or as chief constable?"

"Both, madam," came the reply. "We can't get our new bulldog to open his mouth, and—there's a burglar in it."

Diminishing Returns

"Thanks very much," said the minister, as little Tommy handed up his offering for the harvest festival; "I must call round this afternoon and thank your mother for these eight beautiful apples."

"P-please, sir," stammered Tommy. "would you m-mind thanking her for t-twelve apples?"

Turn About

"Didn't you promise me to be a good boy?"

"Yes, father."

"And didn't I promise you a thrashing if you weren't?"

"Yes, father, but as I've broken my promise, you needn't keep yours."

BIG ENOUGH

Two Scotchmen were out hunting deer. One of them was new at the game, and as they had gotten into rather a tight place, the tension was high. All of a sudden, a fine big moose stepped into the clearing.

Sandy was terribly startled as he had never seen such a fine, big animal before, and he cried, "Oh Jack, look, what'd you call that?"

Jack replied, "Why, mon, that's a moose."

"Well," said Sandy with a sickly laugh. "If that's a moose I don't keer to see a rat."

HONEST LAD

Danny, along with many other little lads, went to school for the first time, and like many other little boys' fathers, Danny's father asked him how he liked his teacher.

"All right," was the reply.

"Is your teacher smart?" teasingly persisted the questioner.

"Well, she knows more than I do," admitted Danny.

Glenn Waggoner Named Chairman March of Dimes

Glenn Waggoner, county chairman for the local March of Dimes Drive, returned home Tuesday after a business trip to Oklahoma City. The three-day trip was for the purpose of meeting with other county chairmen in connection with the coming March of Dimes Drive.

The meeting was held in the Skirvin Hotel in Oklahoma City. Two meetings were held. After the last meeting on Tuesday Mr. Waggoner returned home.

W. T. Takes On Military Air

The military air is settling over West Texas State College's campus with the corps of cadets for the school's new Reserve Officers' Training Corps unit being organized by Lt. Col. Raymond H. Lumry, professor of military science and tactics.

Following regular Army organization, the 250 boys enrolled this fall form a battalion, which in turn is composed of three companies of three platoons each. Each platoon is further divided into three squads. The corps is made up of 233 first year basic students, eight second year basic, and seven first year advanced.

About half the corps has been fitted for uniforms, and Col. Lumry expects the balance to be completely outfitted by December. Students already are meeting drill periods, but regular field drills will not begin until all uniforms are issued.

Advanced students have been designated as Cadet Captains, with the various commands of Battalion Commander, Battalion Adjutant, and company commanders and executive officers being rotated during the fall semester. Permanent ranks will be assigned at the beginning of the second semester. Non-commissioned officer positions will be rotated similarly among the second year basic students, who have been designated cadet sergeants. Five cadet corporals serve as color guards.

Cadet captains are Eddie W. Austin, Plainview, Hayden Morgan, Tulia, LeMoin Patrick, Borger, Weims, Norman, Floydada, Albert Linger, Vega, John Oldham, Canyon, and Donald R. Perry, Haskell.

Sergeants are Robert Busted, Canyon, Walton Byrd, Amarillo, Kenneth Casey, Amarillo, Jimmy Cluck, Hart, Bill Duncan, Pampa, Walter R. McSpadden, Rankin, Jack Schwalm, Clovis, and Warren D. Spalding, Amarillo.

Corporals include El Dean Beger, Pampa, Roy K. Gladson, Lubbock, Eugene Hill, Canyon, Jimmy Jones, Amarillo, Fred Wortham, Canyon, Charles L. Chambliss, Borger, Max Fowler, Snyder, Chas. M. Holt, Amarillo, Charles D. Rittenberry, Amarillo, and Standley D. Schaeffer, Canyon.

J. D. Byrd arrived in Canyon with his family from Lamesa to accept a position as registered pharmacist at J. J. Walker's Prescription Laboratory.

Local Fisherman Makes WOW Mag

H. C. Gentry, a local fisherman of renown, and a string of black bass made the October issue of the "Woodman of the World" magazine. Gentry caught the five large bass last summer in the pool at the Palo Duro Club.

One of the things that Gentry is constantly encouraging is the use of artificial lures instead of live or cut bait. He believes the sportsman-like manner of fishing is with the artificial lures. This is because the artificial lures hook the fish in the side of the mouth. Then if it is not large enough to keep it can be released into the water without suffering any harm. In most other types of bait the fish swallows the hook and in removing the hook the fish is almost invariably killed.

Although fishing has first priority in Gentry's life, he still enjoys other sports such as quail, duck and goose hunting. When talking with him about fishing he says, "I get them when they're biting and I get them when they're fighting." It seems that fish are constantly doing one or both of these.

Masquers Hold Initiation Meeting

More than 85 Buffalo Masquers were present Tuesday night for the initiation of new members and the first evening meeting of the season. New members were ushered in with assignments of pantomime acts. Some had to pantomime color. Other acts included the imitation of a traffic cop, beauty operator, shop lifter, barber, preacher, baby sitter, nurse, stenographer, shoe salesman, cowboy, shopper, dishwasher, teacher, a dumb blond and an afternoon tea.

After the acts were completed the masquers enjoyed pop corn balls and cider.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. McAtee left Tuesday to accompany Mrs. Lee Chandler to her home in Borger. Mrs. McAtee will remain in Borger to visit for the rest of the week. Mr. McAtee will go on to Sayre, Okla., to visit with their son, Earl McAtee and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Warren left Sunday for Dayton, Ohio. They are driving back a new ambulance for the Griggs-Warren Funeral Home.

Mrs. R. E. Foster is visiting in New York City.

Mess In Washington Is Discussed By Joe L. Duflo

By J. L. Duflo, Retired Professor of Sociology, West Texas State

Before the Nixon affair with its non-official campaign fund was exposed, the "mess in Washington" was confined strictly to the subject of corruption involving tax scandals. Since that time, the "mess" has taken on a more extended meaning. It now includes everything in domestic and foreign policies sponsored by the Democratic Administrations for the past 19 years. The exposure of the Nixon shady deal seems to have taken some of the dynamite out of the tax scandal issue. It exploded in their own hands. Nixon now says that his affair is now a "closed book."

As a matter of fact, corruption has never been an issue. As Stevenson said in one of his speeches, neither party advocates corruption. Recent events seem to indicate that the "issue of corruption" was introduced by the Republicans to black out the "me-tooism" of the New Deal and the Fair Deal. They recognize the popularity of the social reforms instituted by the Democratic Administrations to correct the evils of the Old Deal. They have paid off dividends to the wage earners, white collar employees, and little favors.

Eisenhower would like to continue this program but it would be dangerous for him to give the Democratic Party credit for initiating it. Dewey tried a flanking job at this in 1948 and was soundly defeated. The present Republican strategists are determined not to make this mistake again. But they must find a compelling substitute for "me-tooism" to operate as a filler in campaign speeches. Hence, the introduction of the "corruption issue" with all of its emotional implications. Scandals serve to attract crowds because they make a morbid appeal to the emotional type of voters.

Now that Taft has taken over the Eisenhower campaign what little hope the more progressive members of the Republican Party had in using even some adulterated form of "me-tooism" has about vanished. The Old Guard look is definitely backward. It seeks to check the current economic trend and restore the old era of low wages, low production, high profits, and high prices with its oscillating periods of depression and prosperity. The New Deal has sought to reverse this formula with high wages, high production, reasonable profits, and low prices as its goal. The war with its high taxes and restricted civilian output has temporarily disturbed the price schedule. But assuming peaceful conditions, I would not say the New Deal would have achieved its theoretical objectives. It is a human institution; therefore, it has defects which only time and experience will modify and correct. Change is inevitable and adjustments are continuous. It must be emphasized, however, the New Deal movement is in the direction of a more equitable distribution of the national income. The Old Guard republicanism has no sympathy for this humanitarian movement. They have fought it from its very inception.

But back to the subject of the "mess in Washington." Cruel frankness compels us to face the fact that it is no longer a question of corruption or no corruption; it is the problem of electing to office experienced men in civil and political affairs who will keep corruption at its minimum. Eisenhower says he will banish it entirely. He would have to be a god to select 2½ million employees of the government who are absolutely free of all dishonesty. Jesus with his divine intuitive powers failed to accomplish this end in his group of twelve men. Only an inexperienced man in the science of government would make such a rash promise.

Governor Stevenson in his acceptance speech quoted Justice Hughes as saying that guilt is personal and knows no party. No sober-minded man would condemn a whole church, lodge, school system, or a local government with being corrupt if some officials misappropriated its funds or betrayed its trust. Yet Eisenhower, evidently for lack of a constructive economic and political program, is desperately trying to make corruption institutional rather than personal.

Senator J. William Fulbright (D. Ark.) the Chairman of the Committee Investigating R. F. C. has placed the problem of corruption in its proper focus by raising some provoking questions before the U. S. Senate on March 27, 1951. He asked, "What should be done about men who do not directly and blatantly sell the favors of their office for money and so place themselves within the penalty of the law? How do we deal with those who, under the guise of friendship, accept favors which offend the spirit of the law, but do not violate its letter?"

This keen observation is well illustrated in one of the most sordid tax scandals in American history, a little matter which Eisenhower has overlooked in his "crusade against corruption." "Oh, this is history," you may say. So what? It only goes to show how human republicans are. Unless they become angels by next January, and should be elected to office, in all probability we will still have a "mess in Washington."

We recall that in 1924, Senator Couzens, a courageous liberal from Michigan, exposed tax refund deals that pales anything that has happened under the present Administration. His Committee revealed the shocking fact that Andrew Mellon's Bureau of Internal Revenue had secretly granted rebates and refunds amounting to millions of dollars to a number of large corporations including some under the control of Mr. Mellon himself. Among the corporations so favored were the Aluminum Corporation of America (Mellon), U. S. Steel, du Pont, Federal Ship Building, Gulf Oil (Mellon), and the Hearst Interests. In one report Senator Couzens estimated the secret refunds totaled well over $600 million.

Now this "mess" took place in Coolidge's cabinet and involved multi-million dollar scandals. The "mess" under Truman was uncovered in the ranks of subordinate officials and was confined to such petty items as a mink coat, deep freeze, a trip to Florida, and influence peddling.

Keeping in mind the questions raised by Senator Fulbright let us relate the mink coat episode, for example, with the tax scandals of the Mellon variety. In both instances there was nothing actually done. The mink coat favors and the tax kickbacks occurred "within the law." The spirit of the law was outraged in both instances but its letter was not violated. The Senate Committee in 1924 condemned the Mellon act as a flagrant betrayal of public trust.

When the tax scandals were exposed by Senator Couzens, the U. S. Treasury receipts were a little above the paltry sum of $4 billion. The scandals then ran into the hundreds of millions of dollars. The revenue receipts in 1951 under Truman were in excess of $48 billion. The scandals under his Administration, however despicable, were limited to proportions of crap-shooting money. The Republicans under Coolidge merely "condemned" the Mellon scandals. The Democrats under Truman initiated their own house-cleaning and fired those who did no more than violate the spirit of the law.

History students are familiar with the scandals that marked the Administration of General U. S. Grant. They were as base in every detail as those which characterized the Coolidge and Harding regimes. General Grant, an honest and distinguished soldier, knew practically nothing about political and civil affairs and had to rely upon the counsels of the political bosses who put him in office. There are many resemblances in his life and Administration that presage what may happen to this country should the hero-worshippers outnumber the thoughtful voters and elect another General in November.

In order to bring the Republican record for "cleaning house" up to date, let us go back to the Nixon case and Eisenhower's condoning of his questionable behavior. After having been caught red-handed accepting privately-raised expense funds from a millionaire club in California, Senator Nixon had the unmitigated gall to make a virtue out of the grossest of political vices. He "confessed it all" and in the next breath called upon the people to elect him to the Vice-Presidency of the United States. What a pattern of "honesty" we are asked to follow! What a reward we are asked to give for telling "the whole truth" (under pressure)! By the same token, we should revise our criminal laws and reward every offender with a public office if only he makes a clean breast of everything. Eisenhower not only wants "new faces in Washington," but he also wants to set up a new and rather easy code of morals.

The thinking public must have been stunned when Eisenhower, the great protagonist against corruption, took his "wandering boy" to his bosom at the reunion in Wheeling, W. Va., and exclaimed: "My colleague in this political campaign has been subjected to a very unfair and vicious attack. So far as I am concerned, he has not only vindicated himself but I feel that he has acted as a man of courage and honor and, so far as I am concerned, stands higher than ever before!" (Exclamation points are mine).

We ask General Eisenhower: Is it unfair and vicious to attack a man for receiving secret campaign funds which imply the obligation to grant favors not extended to constituents who have no axes to grind? Must a man become a partner in a deal which offends the spirit of the law but does not violate its letter so long as he "confesses it" in order that he may "stand higher (with him) than ever before?" Is a confession of a guilt a vindication of an act? When one vindicates an act he maintains he is in the right. What is right about receiving non-official campaign funds? Is that to be the policy of the Republican Party? If such an act is right, why did the Republican National Committee make such a furor over his doing the right thing? No wonder Senator Nixon insists that this incident is a "closed book."

Since guilt is personal and knows no party, it would not be fair to charge the Republican Party, as an institution, with condoning corruption even in its innocent and attenuated form as found in the Nixon case. But is not the Republican high command straining at a gnat and swallowing a camel? Which reminds us of an old adage: "When you hear a man over-talk his honesty, watch your purse, my son, watch your purse."

Joint Meeting Enjoyed by VFW, Another Planned

"Everyone had an enjoyable time at the VFW joint meeting in the VFW Hall last Thursday night," said Commander Luke Miller early this week. Refreshments of coffee, cake and soda pop were served.

There was a business meeting conducted and then various games played. The business meeting consisted of both the VFW and the Auxiliary. When the business was completed the club members and their wives enjoyed some games. Everyone had a wonderful time and the members are looking forward to next month when another joint meeting is scheduled. This meeting is to be held on the first Thursday of November. It will also be a joint meeting but there is to be a greater treat at this one. This treat will be in the form of a covered dish supper which will be enjoyed by all those who attend.

Commander Miller said that club members desired and expected a good turnout for this occasion. It is to be held at the VFW club house Thursday night, November 6. Although the last meeting of this kind was thoroughly enjoyed, this one is planned to be bigger, better and more enjoyable.

Give Awards in Events of Boy Scout Camporee

Three awards were presented at the close of the Boy Scout Camporee Sunday, October 5. These awards were: Archery to Jerry Cash of Troop 13, Amarillo; tree felling to Bob Phillips of Troop 77, Bivins Station and first place winner award to Troop 37 who won by having Class A in all events of the Camporee. Troop 13 came in second place by a very slim margin.

Troops attending the Camporee were 79, 20, 21, 2, 13 and Post 99 of Amarillo; Troop 52 of Hereford; Troop 37 of Bivins Station, and Troop 46 of Skelly. Canyon's Troop 66 acted as hosts at the Camporee and did not participate in any of the events.

The Camporee opened Saturday morning with a flag ceremony and the entire morning was filled with events such as camping, cooking, attendance, knot tying, compass, wall scaling, archery and tree felling.

After lunch a parade was formed at the camp area north of West Texas State College. The parade included the Cub Scouts of Canyon, their den mothers and chiefs. From the camp area the parade proceeded to the court house square where various events took place that afternoon. The events that took place there were: tower building, fire by flint and steel and fire by friction and flapjack flipping.

Saturday evening the events were climaxed by a campfire on the courthouse square. Indian dances were performed by the Kwahadi troop of Amarillo under the direction of Scoutmaster R. E. Ireland. Sunday morning the Canyon school buses were available to take the scouts to the church of their choice.

Events Sunday afternoon included signaling, monkey bridge building, tent peg making, tent pitching and scout drill. Professional Scouters attending the Camporee said that it certainly was an inspiration and was far better with its new events than the field days had been.

Stuart Condon and Edd Pettitt wish to express their thanks to the citizens of Canyon who helped to make the Camporee a success. The local Scout leaders also expressed appreciation for the courtesies shown them and visiting troops by the business men of Canyon.

Alvin Kuhlman In Report of Trip to Europe on Tuesday

Alvin Kuhlman talked at the Rotary Club luncheon Tuesday on the trip which he made to Europe, especially Western Germany, early last year. He was presented by James Russell.

In spite of the fact that he served two years in the navy during the war, this was his first ocean trip. His primary objective was Western Germany where his grandfather lives on a farm, and understands farming conditions. Alvin, son of Herman Kuhlman, lives east of Canyon and is a farmer.

He was not impressed with France, with its slow recovery from the war, and thought Paris was entirely overplayed as to its glamour. The farmers of France are still using oxen for farm work. Switzerland was the most prosperous land he visited, and the most beautiful.

Italy is a great deal like Old Mexico—the people poor and recovery slow.

Devastation in Germany was terrible. In places where repairs and re-building had taken place, the improvements were fine. People exist on a survival basis. There are 10 million refugees from Eastern Germany, with no work and no money.

Farming progress has been great. The farmers suffered less than the cities during the war. They do not want to see another war, but do not talk about it. They are not sure of Democracy, and would like to see the monarchy restored.

The Germans want to see East and West Germany united into a great nation.

Holland is the cheapest nation in which Mr. Kuhlman traveled; while prices were high in Belgium. Dr. Chas. Nester passed the cigars in honor of his young daughter.

Visitors were: Rev. Alvin Lynch of Plainview; Mathran Matsler of Iowa; Dr. Wortham Arnold of Corsicana; Tom Gallaher, Van H. Alm, W. W. Rusk, Joe J. Martin, Guy Carlander, E. C. Wagner, Arthur Osgood, I. H. Davies, Dr. Ed F. Thomas, Dr. W. B. Stevenson, Dr. Bill Stevenson, all of Amarillo; J. J. Spurlock of Melrose, N. M.

Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Elkins, Mr. and Mrs. Jerre Inman have spent the last two weeks in Liberal, Kansas, with Mr. and Mrs. James Inman who are spending the winter there.

C-C Float Ruined On Return Trip From Amarillo

One float that was planned for the Homecoming parade will be missing. It was the one which was entered in the Tri-State Fair parade in Amarillo and the Amarillo Chamber of Commerce parade to boost the West Texas State and McMurry football game in Amarillo.

The float met with a slight mishap on the way home from Amarillo. Wind, rain, and a fall from the truck on which it was carried contributed to the total loss of the float.

This float was almost an exact replica of the Lighthouse Rock of Palo Duro Canyon. After the 13-foot float served in these two parades in Amarillo its glory was to be climaxed in the Homecoming parade. But the wind tore the float loose from its moorings on the truck and it fell, ruining two sections of the three which comprised the main structure.

Because of the time element and vast amount of labor required to re-build it this float will not be re-built for the parade.

HEADRESSES: REAL, NATURAL, ARTISTIC

Man competes with nature in creating original headresses to beautify faces of lovely ladies round the world. Best in the business is Hollywood and one of the film capital's proudest products (1) is a "replica" of Cleopatra's headress. It is shown curving over curls of Rhonda Fleming who plays the Egyptian Queen in the movie "Serpent of the Nile." Nature, not to be outdone by man, points to plumes (2) of Paris Zoo's Tufted Goura pigeon. Artistic headress (3) patterned after those used in Hindu dances, is worn by solo-water-ballet-star Beulah Gundling, considered one of the world's best. Crusted with tradition, authentic Balinese headress (4) is worn by dainty 13-year-old dancer Ni Gusta Raka. Member of troupe which will tour America, she is the principal performer. Her headress and gown, richly decorated with traditional Balinese figures, delight costume designers.

NEWS LETTER

From Congressman WALTER ROGERS
of the 18th Congressional District

Back to Texas

This letter is being written while Mrs. Rogers and I are en route to Texas. We were able to secure the services of a lady to stay with the children so that Jean and I might get home for a few weeks. We discovered that the University of Texas was playing the University of North Carolina in Chapel Hill. This is not out of the way coming to Texas, so we arranged to attend the game.

You could all be justly proud of Texas. The boys played a wonderful game. The Panhandle was well represented in the person of T. Jones, who hails from Childress and plays quarterback. He did an outstanding job and received high praise from all of the spectators and the opposing players.

The people of North Carolina certainly proved that their reputation for good sportsmanship is no idle rumor. They certainly displayed to the nth degree the courteous hospitality for which the South is famous. Many Texans were on hand for the game. I'm sure all of them left with a warm spot in their hearts for the fine State of North Carolina.

This state has a fine delegation in Congress that has provided much of the strength in the battle against socialistic programs, and in protecting the rights of the South.

We left Durham which is 12 miles from Chapel Hill, and drove across the state to Asheville, thence to Chattanooga, thence to Memphis, Little Rock, Tulsa, on to Sherman to visit my mother, then to the District where we will be for several weeks unless we get a hurry-up call to return to Washington.

During this entire trip I have been especially interested in noting the attitude of the people on the matter of voting. Many of them are hesitant to discuss party politics, but they are all wide awake about the coming election and are pretty well advised on the important issues facing the country. They are definitely doing their own thinking.

Many of the smaller towns have headquarters set up for the presidential and vice-presidential candidates. The people as a whole appear to be interested in facts and truth. They are reading and listening carefully and weighing the facts. They don't hesitate to ask questions and to seek all information possible. This is so in the rural areas as well as the large cities.

There seems to be increasing interest in a presidential preferential primary. Some feel that party nominations should be by such a primary, with the retention of the electoral college system for election.

Others feel that the President and Vice-President should be elected by popular vote; that the electoral college system should be abolished. There are still others who feel that a proper solution would be an amendment providing that each candidate should receive only the percentage of electoral votes that he receives popular vote in each state. This is definitely a problem on which much will be done and said before the 1956 elections.

Generally speaking, we found that the folks in all sections are primarily interested in the United States and what it stands for. They realize the responsibility that we hold in the world today and are willing to meet all requirements, but they are not willing to exhaust our resources trying to keep up the whole world. Opinions are varied on how far this country should go in foreign aid, but almost unanimous that such aid should be on the basis of the helped helping themselves as much as humanly possible.

The crops across the southeastern section seemed to be in fairly good shape, but you can sure tell where the drought disaster belt begins. The small business men report decreases in sales and profits, but many of them think that this is the usual pre-election slump, and that business will level off again after the election.

One fellow told me that this slump in business was a healthy thing in the smaller communities, because things had just gone too high. He seemed to think that the slump would become more noticeable in the larger cities, especially as to profits, and that the election had nothing to do with it.

It is interesting to read the national polls and estimates that are made on a nationwide scale, and then go out into the different communities and talk to the people. The nation-wide picture is a great deal different from the single community pictures, but the two together make a wonderful view of the entire American scene.

If you ever get the feeling that the country is going to the dogs

At the next session of the Legislature, which convenes in January 1953, there will be steps taken in the direction of increasing state employees' salaries.

Last week in this column I wrote on the subject of these salaries and quoted Newsweek magazine as saying that Governor Shivers "filled the statehouse with top-notch men... Sometimes he subsidized them from his own pocket."

Subsequent to the September 29 issue of Newsweek, in which that statement appeared, the governor held a press conference during which he told reporters, "I don't supplement salaries and I don't know of anyone who does."

Pursuing the subject, Shivers commented that in his opinion the state ought to pay salaries high enough to attract good people for key positions.

"We need to do some more adjusting on state salaries," the governor said. He added that he would ask the Legislature to do something about the situation.

And he recommended that members of the Legislature themselves should have a pay boost. They now get ten dollars per day for the first 120 days of the session. Thereafter they get five dollars per day.

The amount is hardly enough to support a man living away from home. If he brings his wife and family to Austin, it's a pretty tough squeeze to get by on ten dollars a day. At five dollars the legislator goes broke.

Shivers also thinks that the Legislature should meet every year for 60 days, rather than every other year for 120 days. It seems more problems come up faster nowadays, what with the state growing and growing more complex all the time.

Hal Boyle of the Associated Press had a humorous column the other day, in which he concocted a letter from a boss to his employees, as follows:

"The management has been asked whether it plans to start a gift fund to retain high caliber employees who have been offered government jobs at three times their present salary. We don't."

"A statement is attached. Attention is called to the portions in red ink."

"The management also announces that if the employees wish to start a private fund to help the firm meet its expenses their contributions will be gratefully accepted."

I hope Hal won't sue me for cribbing from his column. I used to work for the Associated Press myself. Nobody subsidized me.

Speaking of the press, October 1-8 was observed as National Newspaper Week. Governor Shivers issued a statement in which he said:

"Here in Texas we have a more than ordinary reason to observe National Newspaper Week. For here in the great Lone Star State a vigilant and responsible press is doing what I think is an outstanding job for our state and its people."

The governor has a very live interest in newspapers and newspaper men.

He lives pretty closely with them. Representatives of the wire services and of the major Texas dailies interview him frequently.

Not only that, but he is a newspaper owner himself. So he understands newspapering from both sides — that of the man who gets a lot of questions from reporters, and that of a man who has to tussle with the problems of publishing.

and can't be saved, just start out across the country and stop every chance you get and visit with the folks. America will never go to the dogs as long as we have the kind of Americans that I have been talking to for the past several days, and most of them look pretty healthy and good for many years to come.

Hans Hess, right, freshman from Dusseldorf, Germany, relates his biological experiences to the merriment of Prairie editor, Fred W. Sham. Hess is interested in pursuing a study of forestry.

Freshman Is Enrolled for Study of Forestry in West Texas State College

When Amoeba and Chlorophyll get mixed with the King's English, even a native son pauses to reflect. Hans Hess, newcomer to both biology and English, finds himself not a little confused here at West Texas.

"I think I would like Biology too if I could understand the professor, but he speaks in such large words it is hard for me to follow," says Hess, 21 year old freshman who came to the United States eight months ago from Dusseldorf, Germany.

It is the old story of a young man setting out to seek his fortune, but the chapter told by Hans is as much or more inspiring than any yet told.

He is principally on his own.

He was sponsored to this country by Alton P. Donnell, a New York engineer, whose parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Donnell, live on a farm three miles west of Canyon.

Soon after his arrival in the United States, Hans came to live with the older Donnell family. He stayed here for a while but soon became restless since he didn't like the farms of the Panhandle area as well as those of his home country, and went with a son-in-law of the elder Donnell to work with a pipeline concern in Nebraska, where he spent the summer.

While at the farm, Hans became acquainted with the West Texas campus and decided to continue with previous plans made back in Germany for a college education. One of the deciding factors in his coming to the U. S. was the fact that he would have been forced to wait at least five years before he could gain entrance to a school in his home country.

"The waiting list for entrance over there is at least five years long at each college and you could be turned down after your name came up first on the list," he explained.

He also said that the number of people who are migrating into the region around where he lived in Germany, which is the British Sector, from the Russian zone is so great that conditions become more crowded every day. "Even a job as a day laborer is scarce," he said.

Hans plans to spend two years at WT before moving to another college to take a degree in Forestry. He said, "I like to work with animals and like to be near the trees; big trees and many of them. The country around my home has mountains and forests."

He further stated that although he wasn't sure, he imagined that Texas had forests too, since they had everything else, but he had not seen them.

Hans has two sisters, both older than he, and two brothers, one older and one younger than he. His mother and father live in Haan, Germany, a town of 15,000 population where his father is a minister.

The youth is in love with American college life and enjoys his studies which include math, chemistry, biology, English, and agriculture. His leisure time favorites are listening to classical music. "I can easily leave out what you call jazz," he stated, movies and football.

The young man, who is rapidly becoming adjusted to customs and language in this country, plans to take citizenship as soon as possible.

Hans said that he supposed everyone was homesick once in a while, but that he planned to make his life here where opportunities are better.

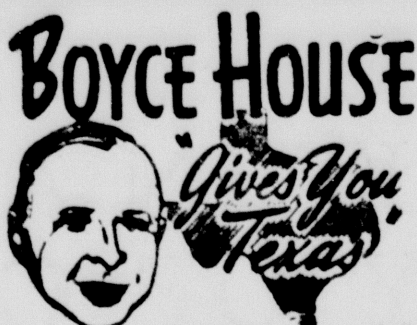

At present he is supporting himself by serving as a custodian for the college agricultural building. He lives in Conner Hall.

Staff chief of U. S. armed services are complaining about the number of shells that GI's are shooting at Communists in Korea. The idea is that they should be more economical, so the war will not cost so much.

War in Korea is costing at least 7 billion dollars a year, in addition to casualties that are now running at 40,000 a year. The official "line" is that the cost is only 4 to 5 billion a year, with no mention of casualties.

Russia's Stalin is showing no intent or desire to accommodate top-ranking U. S. officials who figure that the election can be won on November 4 if a rabbit can be pulled out of the hat, resulting in sudden peace in Korea. War is speeding up, not slowing down, in the weeks before the voting.

It will not surprise insiders if Gen. Douglas MacArthur and Gen. Dwight Eisenhower make up before election. Peace feelers are being put out now.

Los Angeles revisited after 12 years:

The weather? Not as hot as Texas. It got up to 97 one day. Natives were moaning when it was only 91. Hottest time of day is noon. At 1 p. m., a breeze from the ocean begins to cool things off.

Smog? I had an idea it was like the fog in London, wet and raw. "A beastly night, eh wot?" "Yas, rawther; just right for a murder." But the smog is a light fog, a haze, a mist which reduces visibility somewhat and it is in the morning and is not damp. However, on two mornings, it made one's eyes burn. The smog gradually disappears. Cause and cure? No one seems to know. A theory is that it is produced by the fumes of hundreds of thousands of cars in an area enclosed by hills. Some think that householders burning rubbish cause it. To this latter "explanation," one is tempted to say, "Rubbish!"

Prices? Newspapers are a dime. So are phone calls: a dime or two nickels will get a line. Shines are 20 and 25 cents.

There are lots of small, attractive places to eat. On Wilshire Boulevard, a cafeteria advertises, "All you can eat—$1." The Flying Saucer, also on Wilshire, will serve you a filet mignon, with salad and French fries, for $1.15. And there is a big blue-and-white place with a Dutch windmill sign and pretty blonde waitresses in Dutch costume where the thrifty Dutch, and others, can obtain excellent apple pie and coffee for 20 cents, including sales tax. (The sales tax is 4 per cent—paid with pennies, none of these pesky red, blue and green mills, five mills and 10 mills.)

And on Hollywood Boulevard is a small place. Aldo's or some such name, where you can get a T-bone steak with accessories for a dollar and a half and watch the chef cook it, heat a metal platter, which he then lifts with tongs and places on a wooden slab — and steak, hot platter and slab are placed before you. The steak is a full inch thick.

Then there is the Hickory House, just off Broadway on Fifth (as I recall the location) where you can get half a barbecued chicken for $1.35, with salad and potatoes.

There are of course many other places where you can spend more — but will not likely get any better food.

It is beginning to dawn upon Republican political strategists that Senator William Knowland, of California, won renomination overwhelmingly, in both Republican and Democratic primaries, with an attack upon this country's foreign policy. When Senator Joseph McCarthy swept the Wisconsin primaries with some of the same line of attack, politicians started to dust off the foreign-policy issue.

Gen. Walter Bedell Smith, head of the U. S. spy system, was innocent of any intent to stir political trouble when he said that there were Communists in his own organization. A first reaction at the White House was that the General might be supplying political ammunition on the Communist issue to his old friend, General Eisenhower. It all was cleared up with later explanations.

Some of General Eisenhower's Pentagon friends are not happy about the speed with which the General turned from a supporter of universal military training into an opponent of that plan. The turn was made on advice that UMT support would cost votes among farmers.

General Eisenhower frightened both the Navy and Air Force when he said that, if elected, he would get more real defense at less cost. Admirals and air generals speculate that more real defense, to Eisenhower, means more soldiers, rather than more ships and airplanes.

Latest complaint from Europe is that U. S. arms aid is threatening to come too fast, not too slow. France and Norway are having trouble finding adequate storage facilities and the trained personnel needed to handle new U. S. tanks and planes.

Both Stevenson and Eisenhower are being advised that the Negro vote, very important in big cities of the North, is going to go more solidly Democratic this year than it did in 1948, when an estimated 3 out of 4 Negroes voted for Truman.

General Eisenhower is giving thought and study to General MacArthur's viewpoint on the Far East. The Republican candidate is impressed by the MacArthur ideas on what U. S. policy in Asia should be.

President Truman is answering the issue of corruption by asserting that one out of every 300 private bankers has been involved in embezzling, with the record in public service far better than that.

SOUTHWESTERN PUBLIC SERVICE COMPANY
28 YEARS OF GOOD CITIZENSHIP AND PUBLIC SERVICE

How soon to call on the new minister's wife, and the proper dress for the bridegroom's mother used to occupy a lot more of an American woman's thinking than they do today. In fact, "etiquette" was once outlined in pretty dogmatic fashion by fastidious mamas, and girls' finishing schools; and the young lady who had not been coached in "proper" behavior was soon put in her place by the stern disapproval of her classmates and her elders.

In those days, somebody's "Book of Etiquette" was referred to in many homes much oftener than anybody's dictionary.

Then wartime living changed American ways. Young women from "good homes" learned the art of living sensibly on their husband's salaries, and that didn't always mean doing things the "right way." Small apartments made formal parties seem comical, if not downright out of the question. Young couples discovered that they could serve a pick-up supper for twelve, with half the guests having to sit on the floor, just as cheaply as they could seat six for a formal meal. And everybody had more fun!

So the etiquette books lost caste. Although still consulted on such state occasions as weddings and visits to Washington, D. C., they were kept discreetly out of all conversation.

That's why it's so refreshing to find a new book, courageously bearing the same old title. Compiled by a woman whose family name goes back to the early days in American history, this one is claimed to be "complete, up-to-date, and full of common sense."

Maybe this is good, though. For while a woman's common sense will usually guide her right, she doesn't always have the self-confidence to follow its dictates. And having it said by an authority will give her the assurance she needs.

Boost Our Spirit

School spirit puts zest in your school life!

Some students are lively at a football game and pep rallies, while others are not. What makes the difference? Those who get the most "lift" from it are those who put the "lift" into it. They enter into each activity of the school with the thought that it is going to be great fun. They are bubbling over with enthusiasm. Are you a person who has no spirit, or one who helps the teams with your zeal?

Canyon High teams put forth their most vigorous efforts. They work hard at keeping in tip-top shape, and they make many sacrifices for the sport.

Without sports, no school is complete. That includes all sports: basketball, track, volleyball, and tennis. At this particular time, thoughts of all sports-minded persons are turned toward football.

The excitement and yells are a large part of it, and no game is complete without the pep rally every Friday before a game. The main idea of the rally is to arouse the entire student body to the spirit of the game. There is, however, a deeper meaning behind that rally, and that is for the inspiration of the team.

They need to be assured that someone is backing them up. They are no different from any other ordinary guys. They are not super humans, and are probably somewhat scared before a game. They need someone to boost their confidence.

The entire Canyon High student body is proud of those teams and they are spoken of with admiration. So how about letting them know it? Make use of those pep rallies, and show the cheer leaders that you appreciate them. Make the air ring with your praise, yells, and the fight song!

What's Your Name?

Canyon High students don't realize how lucky they are. The friendliness in the hall is outstanding. Introduce yourself to new students so you will know them and they will know you. By observation you will see that CHS students are courteous at introducing themselves.

The new student feels lonely if he has no one to talk to. So be among the first one's to introduce yourself to others.

Girls, you introduce yourself to the boys, and boys, you be sure and introduce yourself to the girls.

Let's get out this week and hear that "What's Your Name" spirit. Remember, a new friend never hurt anyone.

The Eagle's Tale

27th Year

Published by The Canyon News for Canyon High School

For the freshmen who do not know the words of the Eagles Fight Song:
Eagles, Eagles, fight, fight, fight
We're gonna win the game today;
Come on and charge that line with all your might,
And show the world the fighting Eagles' way.
Eagles, Eagles, go, go, go—
For you're the best that's plain to see
So Eagles, fight, fight, fight
So Eagles, go, go, go
And Canyon High will win the victory

Jerry Martin from Lubbock High School was visiting with us last week. Jerry went to school here last year. He says it is so nice when you know everyone. There are 1800 students attending Lubbock High School.

Wimberly and assisting him are Tommy Myers, vice-president; Laura Smith, secretary; June Wortham, treasurer; Willie Mac Weaver, sergeant-at-arms; and Ralph Green, reporter. T. L. Seniors Order Exclusive Rings

"What size ring do you wear?" was the big question when the seniors met in the auditorium to order senior rings. Joe Black, from the Starr Engraving Company, measured for the rings. Only two types were ordered, standard and heavy weight.

The rings are of the traditional style of Canyon High. This tradition was set in 1950 and will last until 1954.

The rings have an oval red stone as a background. An eagle perched upon a C is on top of the stone. The words "Canyon High School" outline the stone. Truth, loyalty, courage, honor, service, and knowledge adorn the sides of the ring, with a lamp of knowledge and the year of graduation.

The rings are exclusive as no other school in Texas has a senior ring like this one.

Miss Alice Payne, Joseph Findley, and Mrs. Pearl Iverson attended the District Texas State Teachers Association County Unit meeting held in Amarillo last Wednesday.

Help Prevent Fires For School Safety

"Better to be safe than to be sorry," said Joe A. Gibson, superintendent of the Canyon public schools, when he announced observance of Fire Prevention Week, October 6 to 10, in the system.

Each year there is a great loss of life and property because of fire and the lack of observance of the rules of safety. Mr. Gibson urges that each student gives 100 per cent cooperation in observing fire prevention week and practicing safety throughout the year.

The Fire Insurance Division and the Board of Insurance Commissioners of Texas have requested that each public school have throughout the building an average of two fire drills per month during the school year. For the first drill of the year all pupils and teachers shall be notified in advance and shall be given explicit directions as to procedure. For all other drills thereafter no notice of the fire drill will be given.

Standard signals for all fire drills are:

Fire—3 bells—march out of building in orderly manner.

Return—2 bells—march back to room.

Alert—1 bell—stand at attention.

All teachers and students are asked to observe this week seriously.

The world abhors closeness, and all but admires extravagance; yet a slack hand shows weakness, and a tight hand strength.

—Buxton.

School Spirit Seen Through CHS Hall

"Have you got that spirit?" Canyon High has really shown school enthusiasm at three pep rallies held in the CHS auditorium this year. These assemblies have preceded the football games played with Happy, Kress, and Dalhart.

John Miller, president of the Student Faculty Congress, has opened the assemblies with the leading of the "Pledge of Allegiance."

The cheer leaders, Sarah Colwell, Peggy Bonds, Laura Smith, and Elaine Cundiff are doing a marvelous job in rallies by introducing them with clever pantomimes. For instance, the Happy game played Sept. 12 in the Buffalo Stadium was preceded by a scene in which the cheer leaders almost forgot to come to the rally.

The Kress game, Sept. 19, was given an assembly in which a pantomime of four oddly dressed ladies, our pep leaders, made a tour to a football game in an old car. The Dalhart game was introduced by a rally in which a skit in a drugstore with three girls and a "wolf" was carried out as a theme. The student body has responded to these pantomimes magnificently.

Some new yells have been added to the list this year. Although they are exciting and different for a change, Canyon High still yells out their lungs to the old rafter-splitting "Yea, Purple!" and "We Got the T!" The fight song grows closer to each student as it is sung with high ambitions for a winning game.

Pep mascots, Donna Murry and Judy Taylor, are new to the squad this year. They have appeared only once in assemblies and at the Happy game, and already they have made a big hit with the fans.

No matter how worried Coach Floyd Murry is, he always manages to encourage the student body that CHS really has a team to win. "Eagles" have been held high with pride and honor at every pep rally. Coach Eddie Conner really agrees that they are grand.

—Buxton.

New Pupils Boost Record CHS Roll

New students in Canyon High School and the large freshman class boosted the beginning-of-school enrollment to an all-time high of 306. Of this number, 22 members of the student body have not attended before in CHS.

Senior students, Janet Johnson and Gaylene Pettit enrolled from Mondamin, Iowa, and Plains, Tex., respectively. Nancy Bolton and Bob Hood acquired senior status through summer school credits.

Billene Childers, Ed Money, Georgia Lee Nelson, Nancy Riley, Edward Wells, Arnett Florence, Vernon Florence, and Levon Jackson propelled the junior enrollment.

New sophomores registered are Jamie Airhart, Weldon Crim, Ruby Harris, Ray Henderson, Don Lundagreen, Eloyce Money, Benny Cross, Jack Wilcox, and Don Wells.

From WT Elementary, the freshmen enrolled Howard Florence, Edward Gilliland, Frank Jefferson, and Joy Mayberry, all new to the system.

The sophomores again captured the largest class honor with a high 94. The freshmen follow close with 84, and the juniors and seniors complete the score with 69 and 58, respectively.

The drive began September 23 and is to last through October 7. Highlights in the drive are the "nickel grab," ice cream party, and prizes for high point people. Outcome of the nickel grab up to this time is as follows: September 24, Ted Lowe "grabbed" $2.90; Sept. 26, Joe White "reached" for $3.30; Bob Wilkinson "grasped" $5.05 on September 29; Norman Tueck topping them all with $5.15 on Oct. 1; Lilamay Hunter "drew" $3.40 on October 1.

Persons now with highest number of sales come in this order: Billie Graham, Ted Lowe, Martha McBroom, Nora Dell Ruthart, and Bob Wilkinson.

Those who had sold a quota of five magazines were served ice cream in the cafeteria September 26.

Myers Will Serve As FFA President

President for the Canyon High School FFA Chapter is Tommy Myers. The organization meeting was held Sept. 8 in the school.

Tom Middleton, Jimmie Kuhlman, and R. A. Burgess will serve as vice-presidents, Larry Porter, secretary; Coy Black, treasurer; Larry Stroup, sentinel; and Jack McCormick, reporter, complete the officer's roster.

Tommy Myers and Tommy Middleton will represent Canyon at the National FFA convention in Kansas City, Kansas, October 13-16.

Donnie Stroup, 1951-52 president of the FFA, was elected vice-president of the State organization at the meeting July 13-15.

Eagles Down Happy, Kress in Non-District Tilts; Dalhart Wolves Win

Five Appearances Made by the Band

Bob Huddleston was chosen to the important position of president of the Canyon High School Band at the business meeting conducted Friday, September 26. Assisting him in the post of vice-president is Len Reid McKay.

Frances Cunningham was elected secretary of the band and will serve as secretary of the band council. W. M. Thompson will serve as treasurer.

Senior representative to the band council is Leroy Dickerson. Other representatives to the council are Rae June Cabe, junior, Dovie Keene, sophomore, and Tom Wilbanks, freshman.

The band has made five public appearances so far this year. First appearances were the Canyon-Happy and Canyon-Kress football games. Half-time shows were presented at both.

Two parades during the Tri-State Fair and the WT-McMurry game in Amarillo completed the appearances for September.

The Homecoming parade will again see the band in action. The group will also enliven school spirit in the remaining football games. It will be, however, impossible for the group to journey to Olton.

Drum major this year is Ralph Green. Members of the glamour section are Nora Dell Ruthart, Jean Davis, La Rue Davis, and Annette Pond.

Eagles - Mustangs
Friday Night
At Olton

Wednesday, October 8, 1952

Despite the fact that the Eagles' line is weak, Happy and Kress fell to the fast advancing flock, but the Dalhart Wolves got in the way and the Eagles' line crumbled.

The Eagles outclassed the Happy Cowboys 13-6 before 2500 spectators. The first score was made by fullback R. A. Burgess as he jumped across from three yards out. Arlen Ruthart converted. In the second quarter Tommy Middleton, after receiving a pass from Burgess, ran 32 yards to paydirt.

Joe Barrett accounted for the only Cowboy point in the third on a 11 yard run around end.

Kress' Kangaroos were outjumped by the Eagles in a one-sided thriller Friday, September 19, that ended 36 to 0. The tilt between District 3-A Kress and 2-AA Canyon was a non-conference battle.

The Eagles seized the lead early in the first quarter after the Kangaroos lost the pigskin on downs. It was a Canyon game the rest of the way. Leading the Eagles were capable and able backs, John Miller and Lynn Williams, and ends, Tommy Middleton and Allen Downing.

In another non-conference battle the Dalhart Wolves swamped the Eagles 49 to 0 Friday, September 26.

The game was Canyon's first loss in three starts and Dalhart's first win in four starts. Dalhart is in District 1-AA.

Scoring started in the second period, after the Wolves took the ball on the 30 yard line on the last play of the first period.

Friday night will again find the Canyon Eagles in action in a non-conference wager against Olton in Olton. Game time is 8:00.

Wedding Bells Ring Frequently In Little Chapel Not In Woods

Though there are no woods in this region, the Memorial Chapel at West Texas State College is rapidly becoming as popular as the "Little Chapel in the Woods" at Texas State College for Women, as the setting of weddings.

More and more, since the chapel was completed, are society pages of the Panhandle carrying stories of weddings held in the beautiful little sanctuary which lends itself so well to the joining-in-matrimony services. It is just right for a not-too-big and not-too-little wedding.

But the chapel is not serving merely as a wedding site, for its doors are open at all hours of the day to students and faculty here at West Texas State, who might wish an hour's meditation and worship. Special programs, particularly at Easter time and Christmas, are given here by college groups and citizens of the town and area. Too, any religious organization is welcome to use the facilities of the chapel for any service.

Called Memorial Chapel since it was dedicated in the fall of 1950, the little campus center will be renamed at a special "Regents' Day" program next Wednesday at 10 a. m. The Board of Regents of the state teachers colleges, led by H. L. Mills, Houston, president, will dedicate the college's new library and physical education building, rename the chapel, and pay recognition to the new department of military science and tactics.

Result of a campaign begun in 1944 to secure a place of worship on the West Texas State campus, the chapel, with its furnishings ultimately was constructed at a cost of about $42,500. The funds came from donations by people all over the plains, fulfilling a dream long in the mind of Dr. J. A. Hill, now president emeritus of the institution.

The dream was not just that a building would be secured, but that the need for a religious center at this state college, recognized by many people of the area, would be satisfied.

Assisted by the West Texas State College Foundation, and supported in the drive by ministers of the region, Dr. Hill began the campaign for funds in December 1944. When construction was finally started in February 1950, the job was not long in completion. Formal dedication services were held at Homecoming that fall.

In securing funds for the chapel, a plan for groups or individuals to donate their gifts in memory of others was carried out, particularly in the purchase of pews, the organ, and the chimes. Stained glass windows were also bought in memoriam of people's families or friends.

It was also a part of the plan to obtain a chapel to also provide a small library of religious literature and lectureships in religion and morality. These plans have been instituted, and each fall "Willson Lectures," running four days, and each spring a "Religion in Life Week" are observed here at West Texas State.

A committee headed by Dean Walter H. Juniper, keeps a calendar for use of the chapel, primarily for weddings, organ recitals, and special religious services.

The chapel is non-denominational in construction and furnishings, and includes the auditorium and offices, used often by visiting ministers and speakers for the Religion in Life series and Willson Lectures.

Nominations Due For "Who's Who," Dr. Barlow Says

Students to represent West Texas State College in the 1953 edition of "Who's Who Among Students in American Colleges and Universities" are being nominated by organizations and departments at the college this week. Deadline is Oct. 7.

About 25 outstanding juniors, seniors are selected each year for final nomination to national offices by a student honors committee at West Texas State. Presidents of organizations and heads of such groups as Le Mirage, WT annual, automatically receive nomination, and each campus organization nominates one person, and departments nominate one for each 150 students within the department.

To be eligible for final consideration, according to Dr. Ina Barlow, honors committee chairman, nominees must be at least a junior and have a better than average scholastic standing.

Scarlet Fever To Increase During The Fall Months

The State Department of Health has just issued a warning in regard to scarlet fever, as the number of cases usually increases during the fall months. The majority of deaths from this disease occur from October through February.

Scarlet fever is a very contagious and serious disease. Grown people may contract it, but children under 15 years are especially apt to have it, if exposed. It is especially dangerous for children under five years, and Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, warns mothers to "not let your children take any chances with scarlet fever. Call the doctor as soon as the first symptoms appear."

If your child has contracted scarlet fever, the first signs you may notice are that he seems tired, restless and out of sorts. Usually, there is a sore throat, chills, vomiting, or convulsions and fever. His skin is dry and hot. His tongue is furred, and, under this white covering, it is red and swollen. In ordinary cases, these early signs are followed in a day or two by a rash. Little flat red points, close together, appear first on the neck and chest and soon the rash, very red in color, spreads over most of the body.

The doctor is required by law to report the case to the local health officer. Do your part by following carefully the quarantine instructions which the health officer will give you, since a severe or fatal case of scarlet fever may develop from contact with some one who has only a light attack. Children who have had scarlet fever, or who have been exposed, must not return to school until permission is given by the health officer and physician.

Anybody care to run for this office?

Candidate Wanted: Must be efficient, honest, experienced. Pay and term of office uncertain, since public will vote every day to see if candidate stays in office.

We bet you don't want that job of being forced to get elected every day. Yet it's a reasonably accurate description of what a manufacturer must do to hold his job.

Every day at the sales counter, millions of women and men vote General Electric in or out of a job.

When you stop to think of it, we don't hold office for four years—or even two. We have a daily fight on our hands.

Hands at the sales counter pick up G-E products—hold them, turn them over, inspect them, try them against competitive articles for value and price—then decide for or against.

The only way we can win the election is by constantly improving our product. Thousands of engineers are paid to think up ways to improve, redesign, simplify. We use every known device of mass production to deliver more for the money. And our employees are as keen on winning our daily "public election" as is the salesman at the counter.

Manufacturers sell products on the basis of "be good every day—or get out of office." The result is the American public has the world's highest standard of living.
